Kansas City to Host The National Collegiate Women's Bowling Championships April 7 – 10, 2021

KANSAS CITY, MO (April 6, 2021) – The Kansas City Sports Commission & Foundation and The University of Central Missouri will host The National Collegiate Women's Bowling Championships from April 7 – 10 at AMF Pro Bowl Lanes in North Kansas City, MO. Sixteen teams have been selected to compete in four regional rounds leading into the championship.

The regional and championship brackets will be double-elimination, with each round consisting of a best-of-three match that includes the use of three team game formats- baker total pin fall, five-person team match and a best-of-seven baker match play. Regional competition will conclude with one team from each regional bracket advancing to compete in the championship. The champion will be determined using a best-of-seven baker match play.

Unfortunately, due to COVID-19 restrictions, fans are unable to attend the competition. However, matches will be streamed LIVE at NCAA.com. Post-competition interviews will be available for viewing at sportkc.org/bowling. And the championship final will air at 6:30 p.m. Eastern Time (5:30 p.m. Central), Saturday, April 10 on ESPNU.
